

Can I receive pledges from my receiving lines even if I am not inviting new people?

If you successfully support your new members, each receiving line you create should produce 1-ups for you, until someone is invited into a particular receiving line who doesn't do anything. Then, that receiving line will become dormant. Most members are always looking for new members in addition to enjoying the 1-ups from their receiving lines.